ABOUT THE EVENT

Engineers Day is celebrated annually on September 15 in India to honor the contributions of the country's engineering professionals and to recognize the achievements of the engineering community. The day is celebrated to commemorate the birth anniversary of one of India's greatest engineers, Mokshagundam Visvesvaraya, who is also known as "the father of modern engineering". On Engineers Day, various events are held throughout India in engineering colleges, universities and other engineering institutions. These events include lectures, workshops and seminars by eminent engineers, exhibitions, and competitions for the best projects and ideas. Various awards are also presented to honor outstanding engineers for their contributions to the field of engineering. The day is also marked by various social activities such as blood donation camps, tree planting drives and other community service initiatives to showcase the engineering community's commitment to social causes. The Engineers Day is a great occasion to recognize and appreciate the hard work of engineers in the country and their contribution to the nation's progress. It is a reminder of the importance of engineering in the development of the nation and a way to motivate the younger generation to take up engineering as a career.
