Department of Computer Science & Engineering and Department of Information Technology, Poornima College of Engineering, Jaipur celebrated their Department day jointly on 24th September, 2018 (Monday) at Arbuda Convention Centre. The event was diligently organized. There was a soul to it. A soul that was vibrant, contagious and exuberant.

Mr. Anirudh Kala emphasized on the importance of the fields of Artificial Intelligence and Big Data. He said that Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Data are transforming the world around us. AI has the potential to improve things like healthcare, education, poverty and security. AI has positively impacted society, business and culture on the order of magnitude of the Internet itself.

AI has the ability to quickly and more accurately identify signs of disease in medical images, like MRI, CT scans, ultrasound and x-rays and therefore allows faster diagnosis, reducing the time patients wait for a diagnosis from weeks to mere hours and accelerating the introduction of treatment options.

He further advised students that today's time is the best time for Computer Science and IT engineers due to the technological advances taking place in the CS & IT fields. There are lots of chances to grow in these fields. He motivated students that they should create free accounts on MS Azure, AWS, IBM and similar cloud platforms and try to develop small apps using these platforms.

He further urged that students should invest more time to learn new emerging technologies and try to do innovative things using various online learning platforms and resources as available today like MIT courseware, Coursera, MOOCs etc.

He mentioned that the students of Poornima College of Engineering are consistently performing well as an intern and also as a professional employee in his company.

He appreciated the technical presentations on Projects and Seminars delivered by the Final Year CS & IT students and also appreciated the efforts put in by the students to ca a whole event of Department Day celebration carried out as a student driven activity.

Different technical, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities were organized such as best project presentations, best industrial training presentation, best innovative idea and various cultural performances by the students from I Year to IV Year.

The programme concluded with a vote of thanks extended by Tanuj Mathur (2nd Year CS C).

INTRODUCTION:

Department of Computer Science & Engineering and Department of Information Technology, Poornima College of Engineering, Jaipur celebrated their Department day jointly on 24th September, 2018 (Monday) at Arbuda Convention Centre. The event was diligently organized. There was a soul to it. A soul that was vibrant, contagious and exuberant.

Mr. Anirudh Kala emphasized on the importance of the fields of Artificial Intelligence and Big Data. He said that Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Data are transforming the world around us. AI has the potential to improve things like healthcare, education, poverty and security. AI has positively impacted society, business and culture on the order of magnitude of the Internet itself.

AI has the ability to quickly and more accurately identify signs of disease in medical images, like MRI, CT scans, ultrasound and x-rays and therefore allows faster diagnosis, reducing the time patients wait for a diagnosis from weeks to mere hours and accelerating the introduction of treatment options.

He further advised students that today's time is the best time for Computer Science and IT engineers due to the technological advances taking place in the CS & IT fields. There are lots of chances to grow in these fields. He motivated students that they should create free accounts on MS Azure, AWS, IBM and similar cloud platforms and try to develop small apps using these platforms.

He further urged that students should invest more time to learn new emerging technologies and try to do innovative things using various online learning platforms and resources as available today like MIT courseware, Coursera, MOOCs etc.

He mentioned that the students of Poornima College of Engineering are consistently performing well as an intern and also as a professional employee in his company.

He appreciated the technical presentations on Projects and Seminars delivered by the Final Year CS & IT students and also appreciated the efforts put in by the students to ca a whole event of Department Day celebration carried out as a student driven activity.

Different technical, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities were organized such as best project presentations, best industrial training presentation, best innovative idea and various cultural performances by the students from I Year to IV Year.

The programme concluded with a vote of thanks extended by Tanuj Mathur (2nd Year CS C).
